Professional Experience

Dominic Johnson has over 25 years of experience in U.S. Government contracting. Throughout his career he has provided leadership and management support in identifying regional and global opportunities and formulating strategic partnerships/alliances. He is extremely competent in RFP Development, Bidding/Buyout, Design Management, Logistics (Contingency Operations), Preconstruction effort, and projects executed in austere environments.

Dominic has managed the capture and execution of engineering, construction, and base operation support contracts in many locations world-wide including Bosnia, Afghanistan, the Asia Pacific Arena, and Western Europe. Consequently, he has built up an extensive network he is able to leverage to assemble the most strategically advantageous teaming arrangements for project pursuit. His previous professional roles include:

- Executive Director for Engineering and Construction Operations at DGC International
- Director of Preconstruction, Hawaii for Walsh/Archer Western
- Asia Pacific Director of Operations for Fluor Federal Solutions
- Consultant – Preconstruction Services at ECC
- General Manager, Afghanistan for Recon International
- Construction Manager, Director of Engineering at Brown and Root Govt Services (KBR)
